

Java Developer

Companie: Retina Communications, a Transiris Company

Tip: Loc de practica

Retina (a Transiris company) is an innovative consultancy in the areas of Digital Marketing & Automation, Analytics, Big Data with an emphasis on providing enterprise strategy, infrastructure, and solutions to Fortune 500 clients.

With offices in the US, Canada, Spain, Austria, UK, and Romania, Retina is rapidly expanding and offering solutions and expertise internationally.

We are looking for talented, highly motivated students, willing to develop their skills in Software Development.

What you'll be doing

- Be part of a team that creates innovative solutions to support changing business processes by leveraging technology, systems development methodology, and industry standards;
- Design, build, test, and implement complex business applications and contribute to all phases of the development lifecycle;
- Define requirements and develop roadmaps for implementing designs;
- Build and improve custom components and integrations using various APIs;
- Support continuous improvement by investigating alternatives and technologies.

Perks and benefits:

- We'll encourage you and we'll provide specialized, continuous, and advanced training;
- Work with a global team of knowledgeable experts.
- Be part of a great company culture and an open-minded work environment.
- Enjoy an environment where innovative ideas are appreciated and success is rewarded.

If this sounds like the perfect fit for you, apply today at recruiting@transiris.com